

Library of the Health Sciences Collection Update Spring 2017

By Estelle Hu

The UIC Library of the Health Sciences continues to face issues arising from the uncertainty of the Illinois state budget. To accommodate the limited budget and the needs of diversified resources from UIC community, we tried our very best to make some adjustments to the collection. To better serve library patrons, since January 2016 we have purchased 174 e-books titles instead of print monographs to provide 24/7 user access. We are happy to report the acquisition of three new resources for the UIC community. Eleven resources were discontinued. Cancelled resources were either overlapping with other resources or had low usage. These changes to the resources are listed below and are current as of April 10, 2017.

New Resources

- JMAAEvidence (database)
- Trip (database)
- Somatechnics (e-journal will be available in June 2017)

Cancelled Resources

e-Books

- Remington

Journals

- International Journal of Stroke
- Journal of Drug Education
- Canadian Journal of Occupational Therapy
- Cleft Palate-Craniofacial Journal (print)
- Experimental Aging Research
- Free Radical Research
- Journal of Biosocial Science
- Journal of Medical Genetics
- Parasitology
- Tropical Doctor

Databases

- Gideon

For any questions of the resources, please contact Estelle Hu at ehu@uic.edu.

Estelle Hu

Assistant Professor and Health Sciences Bibliographer

UIC Library of the Health Sciences-Chicago

ehu@uic.edu